THE TOBACCO FAIR.—The annual Tobacco Fair, under the auspices of the Kentucky Agricultural Association, commences in this city to-day. The preparations have been made for the exhibition and sale of the largest amount and best quality of tobacco ever seen or sold in the State or country. The tobacco warehouses have been preparing for the exhibition for some time, and not a steamer arrives but brings accessions of stock for the fair in the shape of huge hogheads of the precious weed, and now the great staple and leading commercial product of the State. Some 500 hds. of tobacco have been entered for the various prizes from all sections of the State, including Hart, county, Bath, Bracken, Breckinridge, Mason, Henderson, Ballard, McCracken, etc., also Tennessee, and Indiana, and we believe from Ohio and Kentucky.

The President of the Association, L. J. Bradford, Esq., has been indefatigable in his efforts to sustain the agricultural interests of the State, and has been assiduously at work for some time to make the fair a success. The sales of tobacco for the premiums, by samples, will be made at the Madison Temple, and the judges are expected to arrive on Saturday.

A general invitation is extended to merchants and citizens generally, as well as to those interested, to attend the fair. Premiums to the amount of some $1,500 will be awarded for the best manufacturing leaf, shipping leaf, cigar leaf, and for the best 3 hds., the second best lots, and to the owners of the handsomest hds. of the leaf.

On Sunday afternoon, a difficulty occurred at the Clifton House, Covington, between Frank Estep and James Wentworth, an ex-City Marshal, which led to blows. During the melee, Estep, who was an officer in the rebel army, who has just returned to his home in Covington, drew a revolver, and fired three times at Wentworth, none of the shots taking effect. Wentworth was considerably injured, however, by being struck on the forehead with a tumbler, thrown by one of Estep's associates. The latter party was arrested and in jail. Upon examination Thomas Estep was held to bail in the sum of $300 to answer the charge of shooting with intent to kill, and Frank Estep was discharged. This affair has created some excitement and indignation among Union men in Covington, as it is considered a gross insult to returned rebels and soldiers to be parading our most public thoroughfares, heavily armed, and manifesting an eagerness, on all occasions, to quarrel with Union citizens. During the past three weeks quite a number of paroled rebel soldiers—nearly all young men—have returned to their former homes in Covington, and the most of them have since been spending a considerable portion of their time in the drinking saloons, where, after stimulating themselves to a high pitch of excitement, they are ready, on any pretext whatever, to shoot or cut a Union citizen. The loyal people of Covington are not in the mood at present to tolerate this state of affairs.

MISS ADA GRAY.—We learn that this talented young actress leaves us at the close of the present season, and is preparing to appear at several places during the coming summer season. We are happy to announce that her many friends and admirers will be able to see her in a complimentary matter, to take place at the Louisville Th after Saturday afternoon. She has, at the request of her friends, consented to personate the character of "The Girl of the Year" in a play, which she will perform at several places during the coming summer season. DUPREZ & GREEN'S MINSTRELS again gave an extraordinary entertainment last night at the Madison Temple, before a very large audience, and will give another to-morrow night. The entertainment of last night, which will close their short engagement in this city for the present, with a new bill on each occasion. This company comprises the best talent of the country, among them the well known Gustave Bidault, the inimitable Green, Reynolds, Benedict, West, Charles, Kent, Bishop and Holmes, and a host of other well known names. We are glad to see that the company is so well received in this city, and we hope to see them again in the near future. A very pleasing bill is offered for this evening, which must certainly be a great success. The company is so well received in this city, and we hope to see them again in the near future. The commencement exercises at the Louisville Female College, Seventh street, will continue until Thursday night, inclusive. A large number of parents and friends of the pupils were in attendance last night. The young ladies gave evidence of decided progress in their studies. To teachers, students, parents and friends the exercises last night must have been highly gratifying. The president, Rev. S. P. Pettitman, is a veteran educator, and is well known all over the country.

QUANTREL DEAD.—The notorious guerrilla "Quantrel," calling himself William Clark, captain of the Missouri cavalry, died at the Military Prison Hospital in this city yesterday evening at four o'clock. He was captured near Taylorsville, Ky., the 10th of last month, after being shot through the body. Magruder, who has been lying in the same hospital for several months, similarly wounded, is very low, and no hopes are entertained of his recovery.

An old man named Thomas Fleming fell from a train on the Kentucky and Central Railroad in Covington, on Monday morning, and the wheels of the cars passed over his body, crushing it in a most shocking manner. Deceased was a resident of Covington, and was about seventy years of age.

Our friends going North to spend the heated term would do well to insure themselves against accidents, while traveling, by purchasing life insurance. Mr. Alfred Pirtle, at 324 Main street, is the agent of the Travelers' Insurance Company.

Seventeen steamers left Parkersburg on Monday loaded with troops. They are due here to-day. The Express arrived last night with the 47th and 54th Ohio regiments on board.

WOODLAWN RACE COURSE.—SECOND DAY. Yesterday's race drew one of the largest crowds that has ever visited Woodlawn. The most exciting and best contested race that has ever been run in the United States was that of yesterday between Asteroid and Loadstone. Asteroid was the favorite, but Loadstone had many friends who backed on him pretty liberally. The odds were 10 to 1 in favor of Asteroid. On coming to the stand both horses showed fine condition. Loadstone perhaps being a little too thin in flesh. Asteroid looked as much as if he could run a mile in a minute, and showed some of the actions of the great old Lexington. At the top of the bell both stripped and prepared for one of the greatest two-mile races ever run in Kentucky.

FIRST HEAT. Loadstone took the lead at the start, getting about 30 feet ahead at the quarter pole. Asteroid followed him closely, and the race was maintained through the first mile, when Loadstone came up to within a length of Asteroid. After leaving the stand on the second mile Loadstone slowed his speed, and came up with Asteroid before reaching the quarter pole. From this point a break neck race was kept up, and the half mile pole was hard to distinguish. Asteroid had the lead. Going out of sight so close raised great excitement, but on rounding the bend Asteroid appeared to have a two-lengths ahead, coming to the stand in that manner in the extraordinary fast time of 3:30. This is the fastest two-mile heat ever run in Kentucky of this weight.

SECOND HEAT. Both horses cooled off nicely. Loadstone appearing to be in better condition than his opponent. At the top of the drum both horses were in the best of condition. The race was maintained through the first mile, when Loadstone came up to within a length of Asteroid. After leaving the stand on the second mile Loadstone slowed his speed, and came up with Asteroid before reaching the quarter pole. From this point a break neck race was kept up, and the half mile pole was hard to distinguish. Asteroid had the lead. Going out of sight so close raised great excitement, but on rounding the bend Asteroid appeared to have a two-lengths ahead, coming to the stand in that manner in the extraordinary fast time of 3:30. THIRD HEAT. Both horses cooled off nicely. Loadstone appearing to be in better condition than his opponent. At the top of the drum both horses were in the best of condition. The race was maintained through the first mile, when Loadstone came up to within a length of Asteroid. After leaving the stand on the second mile Loadstone slowed his speed, and came up with Asteroid before reaching the quarter pole. FOURTH HEAT. Both horses cooled off nicely. Loadstone appearing to be in better condition than his opponent. At the top of the drum both horses were in the best of condition. The race was maintained through the first mile, when Loadstone came up to within a length of Asteroid. After leaving the stand on the second mile Loadstone slowed his speed, and came up with Asteroid before reaching the quarter pole. FIFTH HEAT. Both horses cooled off nicely. Loadstone appearing to be in better condition than his opponent. At the top of the drum both horses were in the best of condition. The race was maintained through the first mile, when Loadstone came up to within a length of Asteroid. After leaving the stand on the second mile Loadstone slowed his speed, and came up with Asteroid before reaching the quarter pole. SIXTH HEAT. Both horses cooled off nicely. Loadstone appearing to be in better condition than his opponent. At the top of the drum both horses were in the best of condition. The race was maintained through the first mile, when Loadstone came up to within a length of Asteroid. After leaving the stand on the second mile Loadstone slowed his speed, and came up with Asteroid before reaching the quarter pole. THE YELLOW FEVER CONSPIRACY. Blackburn, the yellow fever conspirator, seems, set out on his mission as a breeder of pestilence by volunteering his services gratuitously to the British Admiralty during the prevalence of the fever at Bermuda. For his labors there he was highly complimented by Vice Admiral Hope, in a letter which we publish elsewhere. A reward of £100 was tendered to him for his services, and he is now in the hands of the Admiralty, and he appears to have enjoyed the reputation of a man supremely devoted to charitable and philanthropic enterprise.
